Visitor To Germany Returns

Mrs. Mildred Giles has returned from a three week visit in Germany as the guest of Major & Mrs. Albert R. Colon.

During her visit Mildred walked the streets of the Old University Town of Heidelberg, took an evening cruise on the Rhine River, saw the church were Martin Luther spoke at Worms, and spent three days at the Bavarian Resort Center of Garmish. While at the resort she saw the site of the 1936 Winter Olympics went to the top of Germany's highest mountain, the Zugsitze, saw the Passion Play theatre, and woodcarvers at work at Oberammergau, and marveled at the beautiful old painted houses in Mittenwald.

Additionally, Mildred's hosts took her for brief visits to the Austrian Alps and the 13th century Cathedral at Strassbourg, France. Mildred's biggest problem was finding room in her suitcase for the souveniers she brought back for the many friends who wished her well on the trip.

Major & Mrs. Colon and their three children are stationed with the U.S. Army at Karlsruhe, Germany. They call a small farm on the Red House Road in Appomattox, home.

When the ses, a gray film remains. That's why chocolate should never be left in a hot place such as near a heating unit, a table or windowsill in sunlight, or in a car parked in full sun.

Chocolate also will bloom when it is exposed to moisture. Water on chocolate will dissolve the sugar out of its cocoa-butter coating. When the water evaporates, the sugar, in the form of a gray film, remains on the chocolate.

Chocolate that has developed bloom is perfectly safe to eat. However it may not be as creamy as when it was bought fresh. This chocolate could best be used for cooking and baking.

To get the full flavor benefit from chocolate follow these simple guidelines: During hot summer weather keep chocolate in a cool place. Milk chocolate begins to soften at temperatures over 80 degrees Fahrenheit. At 85 degrees it will begin to melt.

Ideal conditions for storing chocolate are 60 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit and 50% humidity.

Refrigerating or freezing chocolate as a means of long-term storage is really unnecessary. When chocolate warms, or thaws, moisture usually will form on the surface, causing bloom. Lovers of cold or frozen candy bars are familiar with this occurrence and for them it's not objectionable.

The keeping power of chocolate is well documented One leading chocolate manufacturer reports that last year it received a letter from a woman saying that when her kitchen was being renovated she found a bag of chocolate baking pieces in an air-tight container on the top pantry shelf. She made cookies with the pieces. Curious, she sent the wrapepr to the company to find out when the chocolate was made. The company checked its files. With that type of wrapper, the chocolate pieces had to have been made between 1940 and 1944. While no one would suggest that someone wait 30 years to eat the chocolate purchased last week, it does show that chocolate is virtually spoil-proof.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Corn Pudding

3 or 4 eggs
1 can of cream style yellow corn
1½ cups milk (canned milk may be used)
1 cup of sugar
2 tablespoons flour
Pinch of salt
1 tablespoon vanilla
Melted butter (approximately ¼ cup)

Beat eggs, add milk, sugar, salt. Then add corn and vanilla. Cook at 350° for 1 hour. Makes about 1½ quarts.

Exhibits To Be On Display In Hotel & Revco Building

Historic and Railroad Exhibits for the Third Annual Historic Appomattox Railroad Festival will be on display in the old Revco Building directly across from the depot. A growth of interest and increased participation in the Festival created a need for additional space and the use of the Revco building was acquired through the generosity of Mrs. Elaine Spencer and Revco.

A portion of the Appomattox Hotel will be utilized for display and sales of arts and crafts. This was made possible through the generous permission of Mr. Tommy Patterson, owner of the hotel.

Oakville

OCTOBER PORKFEST

For the first time in Appomattox Extension Homemakers 4-H'ers and FHA students assisted with the October Porkfest activities promoted by the Appomattox Pork Producers and the Piedmont Pork Producers. Serving snacks of pork products at Kings Market, shown above, were Mrs. Wiley Moore and Mrs. Elijah Farrar. Local markets will be featuring pork during the month of October.

Bible Baptist Sets Homecoming

This Sunday, the members of the Bible Baptist Church will celebrate their 22nd anniversary. The church began in the local courthouse, and then moved to a local school for several services and then moved to what later became the Western Auto Store.

Under the leadership of Rev. Randolph Hite, the congregation purchased property at their present location and built the auditorium.

In June, 1963, their present pastor, Rev. Earnie W. Lucas, was called to the church and has been pastor for twelve years. The church has since then been in three building programs. They first built the parsonage next door to the church. Then they built the first wing of the Sunday School building. Two years ago, the church completed the Sunday School building.

Rev. Earnie W. Lucas

The Sunday School building was constructed at a total cost of only $56.00. The reason for this was because the pastor and congregation did much of the work.

This Sunday the church will celebrate their 22nd anniversary with Rev. Harry Simms as the guest speaker.

The church would like to extend a cordial invitation to all their former members and friends to come for these special services.

MRS. BRIGHTWELL'S 4-H CLUB

Mrs. Brightwell's 4th grade 4-H Club met on Wed., Sept. 12. During the meeting we filled out our enrollment cards and elected our officers for this year. The officers elected are as follows: President - Debbie Walker, Vice-President - Chris Tolley, Secretary - Penny Garrett, Reporter - Elbert Presnell, and Recreation Leaders - Malcolm Miller, Barry Hamlett.

Our Extension Agents, Mrs. Walton and Mr. Sweet told us about the Five County Fair exhibits, an officer training workshop to be held later this month and Share - the - Fun which will be held in November. We also discussed many of the programs we'll be having during the year. Our President, Debbie Walker led us in the pledges of allegiance and the 4-H pledge as the meeting was adjourned.
